

I think local number portability would increase competition within the wireless phone industry. Right now I am a Sprint PCS user. Unfortunately I was lied to by Sprint and was told there was service in my area, but in fact there is no service. I have become reliant on my phone number for buisness and cannot change companies because I would lose my number. I would change companies in a second if I could take my phone number to a different cell phone service provider.

Eric Richko